FOREWORD

The world is a theater; the actors, its inhabitants, are preparing to act their part in the last great drama.

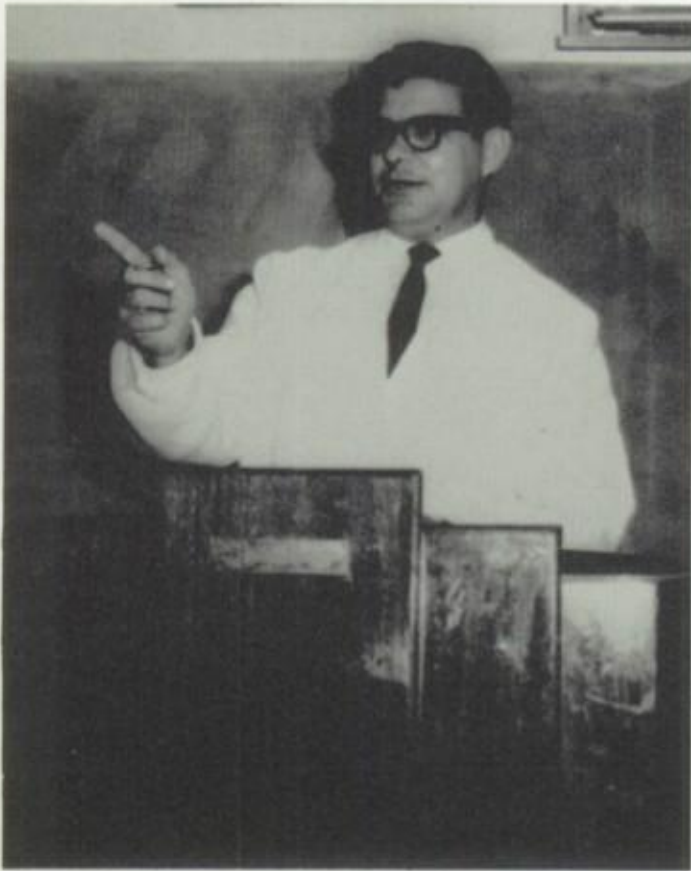

—Ellen G. White

The world can be compared to one enormous theater upon which all the people who have ever lived have performed their life's drama. The inhabitants, actors and actresses from all walks of life, have all made their entrances and exits. These performances have been filled with tragedy and comedy, which make up the drama of human existence.

San Diego Academy is just a miniature stage in this universal moving drama. Here is where each one of us has played leading roles in our school's activities. As Christians, performing in a Christian school, our great goal has been to perform in such a way that Christ will always be first in our lives.

Between the covers of this 1965 Lighthouse, we have endeavored to portray a few of the plays that are enacted in the everyday drama on our campus.

Pam Willis, Editor

DEDICATION

Dear Mr. Duran,

Since you have been with us, we have grown to look forward to your cheery hellos and warm smiles. You are always everywhere to lend a helping hand, whether it be for an individual, or for the student body as a whole.

You have been a wonderful example and a real inspiration to each one of us. As a Bible teacher, your words of wisdom have caused us to do much serious thinking; but your life has been the greatest witness of all. Your motto seems to be simply "love", for even with your heavy schedule, you find time for us, drawing us closer to you, and to God with each small act.

And so, Mr. Duran, because words cannot express our feelings of love and appreciation, we dedicate this 1965 Lighthouse to you, hoping in this small way to say "thank you."

DIRECTORS

Our dedicated faculty have endeavored to direct all our ways into useful and fruitful service for God. Besides teaching us the lessons of a classroom, they have directed us to the feet of the Master, and thus to life eternal.

To most students the drama of this school year has been a rewarding one. Although no one has had a major part in the play, each has contributed to the success of an excellent production. As director, I am well pleased with the results of our efforts.

The role you have played as a student at San Diego Academy should have a lifetime effect upon you. You should not only be better fit to take part in the drama of life, but should be ready for the grand finale when Christ returns.

MUSICAL GROUPS

San Diegans

The choirs are to be commended this year, for the excellent jobs they have done in earning recognition and upholding the reputation they have earned.

Keeping pace with these groups and providing instruction for this busy tempo of activities is Mrs. Pulliam, choral director. We will all greatly miss her next year, but we know she will be happy, so we wish her the best of luck always.

INSTRUMENTAL GROUPS

Music is a wonderful way of expressing the real feelings within oneself. The band has many small groups made up of students who have gathered together because of mutual interests. These groups, both large and small, are in great demand to entertain for school functions. It takes talent to become a musician, but a lot can be accomplished by hard work and perseverance.

Girls' Club has had some great times this year. A camp-out, a Christmas party, taffy pull, and gab fests were among the many activities. The second semester officers have planned many fine activities including a slumber party, and a fashion show. The girls of San Diego Academy agree that Le Cercle du Charme is one of the greatest organizations on campus.

The end of the day

We, as Seventh-day Adventists, believe that governments are ordained of God, and that we should support them in every way that does not contradict our conscience. The Seventh-day Adventist Medical Cadet Corps was established to help train men in this capacity. As a result of the Medical Cadet Corps, our boys have been able to serve their country honorably and still be true to their religious convictions.

But Sir: I was a sergeant!

Can't you tell—it's great to be in the corps.

But Mom, I'M the only one in step!

MUSIC ENSEMBLES

Sophomore Girls Trio

"Ensemble practice tonight," is the announcement often made by Mrs. Pulliam to her various music classes. The ensembles do a lot of work in order to make their public appearances, and the work is enjoyed and appreciated by all their audiences. Although the ensembles do not usually take the lengthy trips that the choir does, they find their own fun right here in San Diego. Only those who are most talented are chosen for the small groups, which are put together with regard to the best arrangement of voices. This requires careful planning; but the result is so good that it is really worth the effort.

SCENES

All our various school activities make up the scenes which divide our acts and make our high school years much more interesting. Even though some of our scenes have been made and forgotten, we must never forget those closing scenes in the life of Christ which made possible our salvation.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Of all our many school activities, our religious activities should mean the most to all of us. As a Christ-centered campus, it is a real thrill for us to go out and work for the Lord. As we endeavor to draw others to our loving Saviour, we ourselves are drawn closer to Him.

These activities include:

- Literature Bands
- Prayer Bands
- Bible Studies
- Clothing and Food Drives
- Weeks of Prayer
- Sabbath Outings
- Bearing witness to the various churches

"This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

I can't help it, I was born this way.

Oh no! ANTS! I

The annual A.S.B. fall picnic is one of the high points of our school's activities. In keeping with tradition, we again went to El Monte Park for the entire day. Relays, football, soccer, and various other games, plus lots of good food—all attributed to a fun-filled day for all.

The annual campaign this year started and ended with a great deal of enthusiasm. Over a hundred yearbooks were sold in addition to the four hundred purchased by students at the beginning of the school year. Maintaining their great dignity, the senior class won first prize. The individual prizes went to Darla Steck and Jim Reese who tied for first place. In addition, many students sold seven annuals apiece, and were rewarded by a trip to beautiful Snow Valley in the San Bernardino Mountains.

During this 1964-65 school year our A.S.B. has incorporated numerous ideas which have greatly improved the spirit on our campus. Among these has been the rebirth of the school newspaper, re-named the Pace-Setter. The aim of this paper is to report the school news in an interesting and informative manner.

Linda Ledington and Bill Bossert, reporters; Cheryl Corey and Deanna Gould, typists; Karyn Eaton, reporter.

CLASSES

Chemistry and Biology are the classes on our campus in which the students can show their abilities in the field of science. From mixing chemicals to dissecting worms, they study to gain more knowledge of the surrounding world today.

SPRING FASHION SHOW

Although the homemaking department recently moved into a new building with very modern equipment, they were still lacking many necessary items which the budget simply could not cover. Thanks to the incentive and encouragement of Mrs. Hendley, the girls were able to put on an outstanding fashion show. They were richly rewarded by their efforts, for the program was very successful, and as a result they were able to purchase many essential articles for their department.

Miss Julie Wong

Our dream come true—the complete gymnasium.

Mr. Moon has been a real inspiration to all of us. Here is a man who truly loves his God and really lives his religion.

Although our beloved "coach" is not a man of many words, his actions speak much louder than words. He not only teaches us that it is our duty to God to keep our bodies as physically fit as possible, but he continues to be the very picture of "health" himself. His great patience and ability to enliven even the dullest games have made him a very popular teacher in the eyes of his admiring students.

We regret that the Moons will soon be leaving us, but we know that all their efforts in life will be richly blessed, for God must surely have a great plan in store for such a wonderful couple.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

1964-65 marked the beginning of a scholastic, arts, and athletic merit system open to all academy students. Interest ran high, especially in the sports division where the fellows strived toward standards set in sportsmanship, leadership, strategy-rules, knowledge, skill, ability, and seniority. The purpose of this system was to de-emphasis group competition, and to teach the individual self-reliance and confidence. As the program grows, it is hoped the Christian standards of the individuals who participate may be strengthened.

FUTURE STARS . . .

The elementary students, under the direction of dedicated Christian teachers, are preparing to live lives which will be fully consecrated to the work of the Master. The instructions they receive now, will enable them to play leading roles in the great drama of life.

Shakespeare wrote, "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women in it merely players. They have their exists and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts."

This picture of life may be the philosophy of those who have no eternal hope, but at San Diego Academy we seek to actively involve students in the greatest drama of all—the great controversy between Christ and Satan. Those who remain in the supporting cast of the protagonist, Christ, will never have to make an exit, and the curtain will never descend on their careers. They will continue to enact the drama of life throughout eternity.

"Hey! Where's the squirt gun?!"

"Where's my locker?"

"Well, I never!!"

"Beautifull! Too bad it doesn't run."

"Would you mind keeping your eyes on your own paper?"

Oneth . . . by . . . land . . . and . . . twoth . . . by sea . . . , I think you better re-memorize that one.

Here is the future of San Diego Academy.

Hey lookit his socks don't match.

Yes you can go, but hurry right back

OH No! We broke off his head.

"I don't give a hoot what Simon says!"

"Yea, school's out!!"

"Teacher, Teacher I declare . . ."

"I don't care, you can't play on the merry-go-round either!"

"Lullaby and Goodnight . . ."

TRIBUTE

Mr. Wiegardt,

These past four years that you have been with us have passed by very rapidly. As we view the scenes of this act in our dreams, we see that numerous improvements have been made on our campus. We have seen the successful completion of a number of facilities, such as: the industrial arts building, the gym, the home arts department, and the band room. But more than just the material changes that have transpired under your leadership, we also realize a deeper and more personal relationship with our school and with our Lord through your direction of our many activities.

As you now leave our campus to work for the Master in a new vineyard, and the curtain closes on this part of your act, we wish you Godspeed and God's blessing. We want to say thank you, Mr. Wiegardt, for stopping by our school and making San Diego Academy a school of which to be proud.

Your friends in Christ,

The student body of SDA

THE CAST

Determining that the curtain should not fall on us, and realizing that we must be preparing our lives for eternity, we are all rehearsing for the final act in earth's history, the second coming of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, which will indeed be the great Drama of the Ages.

STAGE PROPS

We are especially thankful to all those who have helped make this annual possible by their kind-hearted support.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

William Pierce, our photographer

Although the final pages of this annual have been completed, my task would not be finished unless I took advantage of this opportunity to thank those who have contributed in a very special way to the publishing of the 1965 Lighthouse. First of all, I would like to acknowledge the one person who many times combined all his energies to become my entire staff. Mr. Hendley, because you have gone far and beyond your call of duty as an annual sponsor, I would like to thank you from the bottom of my heart. You have been an excellent business manager, a great advertising man, a dependable photographer, a real inspirational layout editor, and most important of all, the most wonderful sponsor any staff could ever have.

Special thanks also goes to:
My remarkable staff for all their hard-working help.

Taylor Publishing Company and their fine representative, George Rentfro.
KOGO Radio and Television Station for the use of their studio and equipment.
Dennis Wilcox, Cheryl Corey, Bill Bossert, and
Richie Bowers for their services.
Lee Peterson, Surfer Magazine for photo on page 51.
The Review & Herald Publishing Association for the use of the picture on p. 106 and 107.
